

Hinrich UELLEND AHL is Associate Professor at the Section for Sustainable Biotechnology at Aalborg University Copenhagen. He has been working in the research field of anaerobic digestion (AD) since 1997. Main focus has been on the optimization of biogas and bioethanol production from agricultural and municipal waste, including pretreatment of lignocellulosic biomass.

E-mail: hu@bio.aau.dk