

Jan BROEZE is a scientist in the field of agro-food process optimisation and food processing by-products valorisation. He focusses of a broad range of application domains, varying from analysing processing effects on product quality and production efficiency to production chain resource efficiency analysis. As part of that, he has specialized on identification and development of side stream valorisation opportunities.

For more information see <http://tiny.cc/s19uhy>.

E-mail: jan.broeze@wur.nl