

Jim GROOT is a scientist in the field of supply chain strategies and location-allocation of production/clustering/trade locations within agrologistic networks of perishable products from post-harvest location until the sales market and consumers. He is able to model and redesign of supply chain networks of perishable products (including cost, time, sustainability, quality, waste, etc)

For more information see <http://tiny.cc/v09uhy> or a publication list at <http://tiny.cc/nz9uhy>

E-mail: jim.groot@wur.nl