On 17th of January 2018 CBHU participated on an event organized by AGRIFORVALOR project which aimed the overview the legislation related to biomass valorisation. Our colleague, Ágnes Szegedyné Fricz gave an overview of food regulation including new products and had the opportunity to introduce the NoAW project.

The event provided a great opportunity to learn about the specific aspects of valorisation of agricultural, food and forestry biomass and to create personal links to Hungarian stakeholders.
